

To strengthen our sales force we are looking for you as:

Business development manager (m/f/d) in the sales field service for the regions Scandinavia & Benelux

YOUR TASKS

- Actively sell our products and solutions
- Sales contact for consulting and finding solutions for structural fire protection requirements
- Network building with building owners, general contractors, architects and specialist planners
- Technical advice for general contractors, planners and builders involved in the project in coordination with our in-house specialist departments
- Establishing and developing long-term customer relationships

YOUR PROFILE

- Completed training and preferably professional background in the field of technical building equipment, supply, ventilation or air conditioning technology, fire protection)
- Sales experience in the field, e.g. as a regional manager (m/f/d), area sales manager (m/f/d), district sales manager (m/f/d) or sales representative (m/f/d) would be an advantage
- Sales professional with a strong hunter mentality
- Knowledge of project business an advantage
- Business fluent English, second foreign language (e.g. Danish, French) advantageous
- Confident handling of MS Office
- Self-confident appearance
- Residence: open

YOUR WIN

- An interesting professional perspective in a growth industry environment
- An attractive income including a mid-range company car
- Modern IT equipment
- Extensive induction training, including specialised/continuing training courses
- The opportunity to contribute your own responsibility and creativity
- Freedom for personal initiative, further training and development

CONTACT

Have we aroused your interest?

Please send your complete application with details of the earliest possible start date and your desired salary to:

E-mail:
bewerbung@priorit.de

Mail:
PRIORIT AG
Diana Kainz
Margarete-von-Wrangell-Straße 23
63457 Hanau, Germany

Tel.: +49 6181 3640-0

Priorit AG Hanau develops and manufactures high-quality preventive fire protection solutions for new and existing buildings. Competent employees have been supporting building owners, architects, specialist planners and fabricators as partners in structural fire protection for more than 20 years. The service includes advice, site inspections, installation of individual customer solutions and other useful services.

Are you looking for success in a qualified homogeneous team and are you looking forward to changing challenges in dealing with state-of-the-art technologies for fire protection solutions?

Then start with us now - we are looking forward to you!